What Is It?

What You'll Need:
Strip of cloth to use as a blindfold.

This is a nature game to play with a partner. Have your partner blindfold you and guide you around to touch, smell, and listen to different things in nature. Can you guess what each thing is? Do you notice how things feel and sound more than you have before? Even familiar places can seem strange new worlds! Trade places with your partner, letting him or her use the blindfold while you are the guide.