KEEPING THE LIDS ON

Bet you can roll your eyeballs so that you can’t open your eyes!

THE SETUP
Roll your eyeballs so that you are looking up as high as you can. Do not tilt your head backward. Now close your eyes. Keep your eyeballs in the raised position and try to open your eyes.

INSIDER INFORMATION
This is impossible. The muscles that are required to raise the eyelids are already hard at work in the opposite direction keeping the eyeballs looking upward. In fact, there are many people who can’t even shut their eyes with their eyeballs rolled back. So if you are one of these, shut your eyelids and roll back your eyeballs under your closed eyelids. Now try to open your eyelids.
