1. Corrugated sheets - a
2. Flatten and open a corrugated box. Cut
3. First score and then crease
4. Then interlock the slits. The shape can
5. Cut slits at 45-degree angles on
6. For the seat cut a rectangle 50-cm long and
7. Finally insert the tabs of the seat into the slits of the base structure to make a
8. This stool is all ready.
9. Stool is all ready. The is where the stool would look like from down below.
10. A short bench. This is a base structure to make a stool of four dotted lines are 2.5-cm wide. Score along all the dotted lines is 20-cm wide and the two sets of dotted lines are 45-cm wide. The middle rectangle of the seat 6.0-cm wide. Score along all the four dotted lines and then fold to give the seat its shape.
11. A screw driver in the slits. Then widen them by running the top. Using a cutter, first cut the slit. Then must start about 7-cm from the slit. Cut the corrugation pleats as shown. a
12. Banana De Lengufl is these are lovely little things between two layers of paper zigzag of paper sandwiched inside one piece of corrugated cartons are great for making simple and usable furniture.
13. Old corrugated cartons